Report:

I had the privilege of supervising Mr. Abhash Basnet during his Adventurous Journey to Bajrayogini Temple as part of his Silver Level Award under The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award. The journey took place on the 2nd and 3rd of February 2025 and involved a challenging hike through the hills and forests surrounding Sankhu, Nepal.

Throughout the expedition, Abhash demonstrated outstanding dedication, enthusiasm, and team spirit. He actively engaged in all phases of the journey, including route planning, navigation, and group coordination. Despite the increasing difficulty of the trail, he maintained resilience and perseverance, consistently exhibiting a positive attitude and providing encouragement to his fellow participants.

Abhash showed initiative by keenly observing the natural environment and appreciating the cultural significance of the Bajrayogini Temple. His reflective insights upon reaching the destination demonstrated a profound connection to the journey's purpose. He not only achieved physical endurance but also gained meaningful personal growth through an enhanced appreciation of spiritual tranquility and the natural beauty surrounding him.

He successfully met the objectives of the journey, which included exploring the hilltop vistas and visiting the Bajrayogini Temple. His conduct, commitment, and positive approach throughout the journey are highly commendable.
